Program Goals:

To improve students’ sense of history by having them visit sites that are 500–1000 years old, but still standing and, in some cases, still functioning.

To show students buildings, paintings, and sculptures in situ, when any previous knowledge would have been gained only through slides and other pictures.

To encourage tolerance and flexibility by having students deal directly with the idiosyncrasies of a related, but different culture: transportation, language, food, currency, and ideas.

To engage in independent study of specific monuments of French culture.

Academics

HON 4990                           1 Credit
HON 4280  3 Credits

Costs

$2,650, which includes airfare, hotel, continental breakfast, museum entrances, travel health insurance, guides, gratuities and administrative fees.

Tuition, most meals, souvenirs, and incidentals are not included. Program Fees may change due to unexpected increases in airline surcharges and exchange rate fluctuations. If this occurs, those fees will be passed on to program participants.
